Kiki, A Selfish Rabbit

One day Kiki, the rabbit, joins a race with five other participants, Leo the Lion, Harry the hippo, Tubi the bear, Zeko the zebra, and Moni the monkey. There are three referees in the race, Baba the baboon, Kaka the parrot, and Dobi the dog. "The participants, soon the race will begin soon" yells Dobi. Kiki is getting ready and planning something. Indeed, Kiki, likes to cheat. The first race is to bring marbles to the finish line using a spoon. "3.2..1 .. start!" Baba cries. Then the race begins. Kiki starts to cheat. Quietly he puts his thumb on a spoon handle to keep the marbles from falling. No wonder Kiki comes out as the first winner in the race; Kiki is both pleased and relieved.

The race continues with the second round. The participants are to move water to a glass through a small hole. And..."3.2..1 .. get started!" This time Kaka leads the race. Again, there referees do not watch well. Kiki succeeds in swapping the glass, with another glass that is not hollow. He so quickly runs with a glass of water. So, again, Kiki comes out as the first winner in this race. The race continues. Before the third race begins, Kaka announces: "Please attention. We, invite all participants to be sporty. Participants who are caught cheating will be disqualified". Kiki is worried with the announcement.

The third race is football."3.2..1..preeeeit!!". Kiki is well known in for being a foot ball player. However, his skills are not followed by a good attitude He is arrogant, and when the game goes he plays roughly. As a result there are other participants who get injured. Dobi also gives a red card, and Kiki is disqualified. Kiki is sad, she tries to ask the referees to forgive his mistake. But it turns out that they are suspicious with Kiki.

Appendix 2

"How do you know if I cheat?" Kiki asks the referees. "I suspect, why only you who made it to the finish line without dropping the marbles," says Baba. "Likewise in the second race, you managed to fill the glass in the finish line until full only at one time. Should with a hollow glass, you need several times back and forth to meet the glass at the finish line." Adds Kaka. Kiki was silent. "Yes, I am sorry. I have to be sporty, because this is my fault." Kiki says quietly. The three referees smile at Kiki.

Baba announces the result. "After all the races have been completed, we have discussed. We decided that the winners....."

HARRY. "yells Baba. Harry is excited. But on the edge of the arena, there is a sad Kiki regretting his actions. He should be the champion. Moni comes to Kiki. "It's okay, Kiki. There's plenty of time to follow the race again next time. Hence, if you join the race, you have to be sporty." entertains Moni. "Yes, Moni. I learned from the race. I'm not supposed to be cheating. I myself and up losing and regretting," he says.
